Dear Michael,

During the filming of PULP there are scenes where a wild pig or wild boar is chased by hounds, and fired at from above by sportsmen. Can you tell me:

- a) is this a game practised in Malta?
- b) did they put this hunt on just for you?
- c) where did they get the pigs from?

I would like to know because I consider it an outrageously cruel sport, and the pig didn't have a chance to escape, as there appeared to be wire netting around the enclosure.

I would like to protest to the Maltese Government about this, and I wonder if you can help.

Love, light and peace,

pl. Spike Milligan.
